

Dear Fellow Pilgrim,

Two great English men are waiting to welcome you to their homeland and two great cities form the basis of the tour: Oxford and London. Both are inextricably linked to these men. Both cities have tales to tell of the faith and much to ask of you through those tales.

Inside the Vatican and I invite you on a pilgrimage of the mind and the heart as much as through the shires and green fields of England. Our guides are the martyr Saint Thomas More and the 19th century intellectual Blessed John Henry Newman.

Whether we are walking down the narrow-cobbled lanes of Oxford with their echoes of centuries of learning or through the equally narrow streets of medieval London with their echoes of bloody persecutions, we will be uncovering the secret history held in these streets. And, above all, that history is a Catholic history, maybe hidden, sometimes obscured, but not forgotten. It is a history that still resonates for the modern pilgrim.

You see, the history you will experience on this pilgrimage is a living history. Yes, you will learn of Newman and his spiritual quest, one that led him to the truth of the Catholic faith. But you will also learn of the modern “Newmans” – the twelve Anglican nuns who gave up everything to make the same pilgrimage as Newman did some 150 years earlier. The only thing is, these nuns are as alive today as you are. Their incredible faith – filled story is of today and for today.

Just as Newman’s pilgrimage took him along unexpected paths, this Inside the Vatican pilgrimage is inviting you to journey along equally unexpected paths. We know where we are taking you – what we don’t know is where, after experiencing this pilgrimage, you are going to “arrive at.”

Of course, we will show you the culture and outward history of London and Oxford: you will see the “sights;” you will eat and drink to your heart’s content. All of this you would expect. Rightly. But we offer you something else, something more mysterious still.

London, where both More and Newman were born, is a city where the Catholic history is there for all to “see” – but only if you have the eyes of faith. And you have to “scratch” the city’s ancient stones to find it, or, maybe, more correctly, those ancient stones have to rub against you for you see it.

That’s where we come in. Inside the Vatican and I will help you discover this “other” history. But there is an even greater surprise to all this.

You see, you will hear of martyrs; you will be told of heroism in the face of persecutions; you will walk streets where saints lived and then died rather than renounce the most precious thing they possessed: their Catholic faith. All of that you would expect. Rightly.

What you might not expect is that you are part of that story. You see the surprise ending involves you. But to find that out we need you to travel there with us to discover what it is. We can take you there, but you have to travel the next bit - and where that is only you will know. Join me!

Inside the Vatican Pilgrimages

In the Footsteps of Saint Thomas More and Blessed John Henry Newman

June 15 – 23, 2020

England: Oxford and London

Sunday, June 14 – Depart from the U.S. You will have packed lightly yet have taken all you will need for this unique pilgrimage. Safe flight!

Oxford, England

Monday, June 15 – Arrive in Oxford. You will be greeted at Heathrow Airport upon arrival after you have exited customs. Once all the pilgrims have gathered, the group will board the waiting luxury coach for a transfer to Oxford and the Oxford Spires Hotel, which is surrounded by parks alongside the Thames River. The Oxford Spires Hotel will be our home for the next three nights.

The city of Oxford, known as the “City of Dreaming Spires,” which was settled over a thousand years ago, grew around Oxford University, which came into being as a collection of colleges from the 12th century onwards. Oriol College, where Blessed John Henry Newman taught, and Canterbury College, the medieval college where St. Thomas More studied, are just two examples of colleges which have operated under the umbrella of the larger university. Other Oxford attractions include Christ Church Meadow, a picturesque park located along the riverbanks, and the University Church of St. Mary the Virgin, which is a superb example of 13th century church architecture.

We will have time to rest before attending Mass in the evening at Blackfriars Church. Our welcome dinner will be held at the Eagle & Child Pub, the well-known meeting place of J.R.R. Tolkien, C.S. Lewis and the other Inklings. Over dinner we will be treated to an orientation talk from Kevin Turley. Overnight in Oxford.

Tuesday, June 16 – Faith & Culture in England from Reformation to Revival. After breakfast, we will celebrate Sunday High Mass at the Oxford Oratory of St. Aloysius Catholic Church (photo, left). St. Aloysius Catholic Church was built in 1875 to serve the population of Oxford and the surrounding district.

As the Catholic population of the area increased, eight additional parishes were formed in the outlying areas, reducing the parish of St. Aloysius to its present area, encompassing the historic center of Oxford. Newman preached here, as did the Jesuit poet Gerard Manley Hopkins, who served as a curate here. Our afternoon lunch will be at one of our favorite restaurants in Oxford, The Royal Oak.

Thereafter, we will take a short drive to Littlemore to visit the International Centre of Newman Friends to see the sites where Blessed John Henry Newman lived, prayed and studied from 1842 to 1846. We will explore the area and enjoy afternoon tea with the sisters who oversee the Center. Dinner and overnight in Oxford.

Wednesday, June 17 – Faith and the Religious Orders of Catholic England.

After breakfast, we depart for Birmingham to visit Birmingham Oratory (photo, below) for a tour, after which we will attend Mass. Birmingham Oratory was the first English Catholic religious community of the Congregation of the Oratory of St. Philip Neri.

The community was founded in 1849 by Blessed John Henry Newman, and is the first house of that congregation in England. Except for four years spent in Ireland, Newman lived here. His private papers are also housed here. This also served as the home parish of J.R.R. Tolkien for nine of his young formative years while attending the prestigious King Edward's School located in Birmingham.

Lunch will be next door at Plough & Harrow Hotel. After lunch, we head to the Personal Ordinariate of Our Lady of Walsingham, and the Sisters of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

This story of the conversion of twelve Anglican sisters to the Catholic faith on January 1, 2013, is an amazing testament of their own steely resolve to follow God's call to become Catholic and to remain religious, and an example of how God always provides for those that love Him and submit to His Divine Will. The option for the Anglican sisters to convert and remain religious was not possible until November 4, 2009 with the apostolic constitution Anglicanorum Coetibus, given in Rome, at St. Peter's, on the memorial of St. Charles Borromeo. It provided for the establishment of personal ordinariates, through which Anglican faithful might enter, including in a corporate manner, into full communion with the Catholic Church.

After tea with the nuns (photo, right) and listening to their story we will travel to Maryvale, the first location of the Oratory founded by Newman prior to moving to Birmingham.

For nearly 130 years Maryvale housed an orphanage run by the Sisters of Mercy, until they left in 1980 when it assumed its present role as an institute for adult faith formation. Maryvale also contains Britain's first public shrine to the Sacred Heart of Jesus, established by Bishop Milner in 1814, who built a small chapel to house an image of the Sacred Heart painted in glass as described by Saint Gertrude. In 1999 sisters of the Order of the Most Holy Savior of St Bridget – the Bridgettines – came to live at Maryvale in a new convent given by Saint John Paul II. In addition to a deep devotion to our Lord's sufferings and to the Blessed Sacrament, which is regularly exposed for adoration in the chapel, the sisters' special charisms are contemplation, hospitality and prayer to foster unity among Christians. We return to Oxford for dinner. Overnight in Oxford.

London, England

Thursday, June 18 – Free morning in Oxford. After lunch, we will depart Oxford for London in time for Vespers at Westminster Cathedral (photo, below). Mass and dinner nearby.

Our hotel is the four-star Grange Wellington. It will be our home for the next five nights and is only a five-minute walk to Westminster Cathedral. Overnight in London.

Friday, June 19 – London: Charity, Spirituality and Literary Gems. After breakfast, we will travel to the Smithfield area of London and visit the Charterhouse, established by Thomas Sutton early in the 17th century, although its history goes much further – back to 1348, prior to the reformation, when the Carthusian Order (or Order of St. Bruno, a religious order of enclosed monastics) arrived in England. We will learn of their historical and spiritual significance as well as the importance of St. Bartholomew the Great.

Then we travel to Newgate Prison, where many martyrs were imprisoned prior to execution there or before heading to Tyburn. The prison building itself has been rebuilt numerous times over the centuries with some effort at reform in its later days; however, for centuries the horrors of Newgate’s cells were dreaded, even more than death itself. The prison jailers had the reputation of being notoriously brutal, cruel and without pity. From 1534, when King Henry VIII appointed Thomas Cromwell Chief Minister, and for many years to come, it was to Newgate Prison and other such places that men and women were herded for no other reason than that they remained true to the Catholic faith.

We will attend Mass at The Church of St. Etheldreda (photo, right), one of the oldest Roman Catholic church buildings in England, and one of only two buildings in London remaining from the reign of Edward I. It is just a stone’s throw from the noise and bustle of modern day London. It is hemmed in by the glittering wealth of Hatton Garden, where gold, silver and diamonds are traded and millions of pound change hands daily. But amid the clamor of mammon, there stands this hidden ancient gem, a spiritual sanctuary of the Middle Ages, a haven of peace and tranquility.

We will leave down the chancery through London’s legal district back through Fleet Street, the center of publishing and journalism, then down a side lane to the Olde Cheshire Cheese, our destination restaurant for lunch.

During the afternoon, we will explore literary London with a visit to Samuel Johnson House and a brief study of pre-reformation Catholic history. The first printing press in England is located just off Fleet Street. We will discuss Chesterton’s and Belloc’s London as we walk to Tower Hill and cross both Blackfriars Bridge and London Bridge (photo, left).

In addition, we will examine the similarities in the lives and deaths of Thomas À Becket and Thomas More as we pass by where both men were born, and how London Bridge is the physical embodiment of their story.

As we proceed on our tour, we will see the Shakespeare Globe Theater on the riverbank and learn about Shakespeare and, in particular, recent research that suggests he was a “recusant” Catholic and part of a covert Catholic resistance.

Dinner will be at the famous Anchor Bankside (photo, right), which is located very near the original Globe Theatre site, which stood from 1598 to 1613. It is supposed that Shakespeare himself enjoyed a pint of ale or two within the walls of the Anchor. Overnight in London.

Saturday, June 20 – Westminster Abbey. The role of the Catholic Faith in England’s national identity... yesterday and today.

Following breakfast, we will depart our hotel for Westminster Abbey to attend private Mass, which is a rare privilege since the Abbey is protestant. Westminster Abbey (photo, left) was originally built as a Benedictine monastery by St. Edward the Confessor in 1065.

All the British monarchs have been crowned in Westminster Abbey since William the Conqueror in 1066, and it is here that St. Edward the Confessor is buried. Westminster Abbey is dedicated to St. Peter; Eastminster, now known as St. Paul’s Cathedral, is dedicated to St. Paul, and both are Protestant churches.

During the years of public service of Sir Thomas More, Parliament met in the Chapter House of Westminster Abbey. The abbey was later dissolved in 1540 by King Henry VIII.

After lunch in Westminster Abbey’s café, which is on your own, we will have a private tour of the Houses of Parliament and Westminster Hall and enjoy tea with a Member of Parliament.

Westminster Hall is where St. Thomas More was tried and condemned under Henry VIII. It is also where Pope Benedict addressed both houses of Parliament (photo, left), during his visit in 2010, the first time a Pope had visited Britain since the Reformation. St. Thomas More’s coat of arms and the “Woolsack” upon which he sat as Lord Chancellor can be found in the House of Commons and the House of Lords, respectively.

In the afternoon, we will walk to Trafalgar Square, a public square built to commemorate the victory of the October 24, 1805 Battle at Trafalgar in the Napoleonic Wars with France and Spain. After viewing the famous arch, we will walk to the north side of the square to the National Gallery to view some important pieces of art before dinner nearby. Overnight in London.

Sunday, June 21 – The History of London – a Catholic city .... Today and yesterday ...

After breakfast, we will attend Mass at Westminster Cathedral. Thereafter, we head to the British Museum (photo, below right), a museum of the world, for the world. Discover over two million years of human history and culture. Some of the world-famous objects include the Rosetta Stone, the Parthenon sculptures and Egyptian mummies. Lunch will be at a famous British pub across the street from the museum.

After lunch, you will have the choice to have the afternoon on your own to explore. Dinner will be on your own. Those who do not wish for free time may opt to hear more great stories from Kevin while walking with him through SoHo Bloomsbury, an area not particularly known for its piety; however, Catholicism is very much alive and vibrant here. There is located St. Patrick Square, with a connection with Fulton Sheen, the Church of Our Lady of the Assumption, and St. Gregory, the Church of the Ordinariate on Warwick St. – all edifying places to visit, following in the steps of martyrs and saints, known and unknown. Overnight in London.

Monday, June 22 – Saint Thomas More, the Martyr.

Today is the feast day of St. Thomas More, and our journey today will focus on the great English martyrs. Our first visit will be to the Tower of London. While the Tower of London was originally a famous English prison, today it is a museum holding historic treasures, including a medieval armory and the British Crown Jewels.

We will stop at Tower Hill in Trinity Garden, the execution site of St. Thomas More (image, left). Here he delivered his final words, “I die the king’s good servant but God’s first,” and a small plaque marks the location of the scaffold on which he was beheaded. At the heart of our private tour to the Tower will be our visit to the cell of St. Thomas More, where he was incarcerated for a year before his execution—an area not usually accessible to the public. It was in this cell that More wrote his famous letters to his family members.

We will continue on to St. Peter ad Vincula, the crypt where the remains of St. Thomas More are buried with other martyrs who were hung, drawn and quartered for refusing to reject their Catholic faith.

Nearby is All Hallows Chapel where More’s daughter, Margaret, is said to have prayed for her father during his execution. All Hallows also was a very famous Marian shrine with a statue erected by Edward I to which St. Thomas More was known to go on pilgrimage.

Following lunch, we will visit Tyburn Convent, which commemorates the many Catholic martyrs, including St. Edmund Campion, who were executed nearby. We will have a tour of the crypt where we can venerate relics of the martyrs. We will also attend Vespers and meet with the sisters in residence here. Tyburn is a place of perpetual adoration of the Blessed Sacrament, so we will have the opportunity for personal prayer here as well. Every effort will be made to attend a 5:30 Mass for Sunday.

Our farewell dinner will be our opportunity to gather one last time around a table, sharing a meal and conversation. About Thyme, will be the setting and it is one of our favorite restaurants. It showcases high-end European cuisine and a unique international cellar, and is a charming retreat in Victoria. A real treat! Overnight in London.

Tuesday, June 23 – Farewell. After breakfast and farewell, a bus will take you back to Heathrow Airport for your return home. Farewell to all our fellow pilgrims, our friends, until we meet again...

Documents, including tickets, are not guaranteed if final payment and booking forms are not received by the deadline.

Itinerary: Although ITVP and its agents and representatives will make every effort to adhere to the printed program and itinerary, on rare occasions it may be necessary to adjust arrangements due to unforeseen circumstances beyond our control (including, but not limited to, such circumstances as weather, acts of God, airline schedule change, hotel requisitions, political disturbances, or transportation mechanical problems). Should such adjustments be necessary, substitutions will be made to the best of our abilities. A refund will not be given. Any additional costs necessitated by such changes are the full responsibility of the participant. We do not guarantee preferred seating at events.

IMPORTANT NOTE:

Flight to London: When booking your airline flights into London's Heathrow Airport (airport code HLR), it is recommended to arrive the day before, Sunday, June 14, 2020, to allow time to rest from your travels. I will be happy to assist you in booking this extra night. If you do not plan to arrive a day early it is best to arrive into Heathrow airport, as early as possible on Monday, June 15, 2020. We plan to depart Heathrow Airport for Oxford about 1:00 p.m. Therefore, your flight to London must arrive by 11:30 am, to give yourself enough time to pass through passport control and baggage claim.

The group departure from our hotel to the London airport on June 23, 2020, will be at 7:00 a.m., which is for flights departing at 10:00 a.m. or later – we schedule departure to the London airport three hours before flight time. If you book a flight departing before 10:00 a.m., an individual transfer will be needed. Although Inside the Vatican Pilgrimages can book this individual transfer, the financial responsibility will be the participant's.
